DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 25-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. These claims depend from cancelled claims. As it is not possible to determine with any certainty which claims they should depend from, they were not examined further on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 13, 18, 19, 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 96/38527. The reference discloses enzyme containing granulated substances for use in laundry detergents (abstract). In Example 1, an enzyme powder is coated with titanium oxide and sodium chloride, using polyethylene glycol as a binder. As all of the limitations of the claims have been met, this disclosure constitutes anticipation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 1, 13, 15, 18-20 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boskamp et al., US 6,313,080 B1. The reference discloses fabric detergent tablets made of compacted particulate detergent compositions in which a fabric conditioning agent is present in one zone of a tablet at a greater concentration than in another zone (abstract, figs.) Note Fig. 2, which depicts core 22 and layer 20, which contains the fabric conditioner. Suitable fabric conditioning agents include micas (col. 5, line 35). At col. 10, lines 10-11, the reference discloses that colorants and speckles may be employed, and the examples contain fluorescers, which are colorants, as well as sodium citrate dihydrate. In the compositions exemplified in cols. 11 and 12, mica is not used, but it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to use mica in place of bentonite, because the reference teaches that these materials are equivalent softeners. The person of ordinary skill in the surfactant art would expect such a material to have properties similar to those which are exemplified.
